

Contents

List of figures and maps	page vii
Preface	viii
Acknowledgements	xii
List of abbreviations	xv
1 The context of exile: communities, circumstances and choices	1
The Gaullist legacy	5
Communities and circumstances	13
Piecing together the fragments	18
Tentative conclusions	22
2 The misfortune of exile: refugees	30
Preparing to receive	31
Arriving: 'We of this country wish to offer you our great sympathy'	34
Late arrivals: The Royal Victoria Patriotic School	40
Les pauvres types	48
Catering for the refugees	55
Travail, famille, patrie : the everyday life of refugees	64
Conclusions	80
3 The conflict of exile: servicemen	92
Arriving: Narvik, Dunkirk, Compiègne and Oran	93
Counting heads: les effectifs	100
At the races: life in the camps	103

The Randolph Hotel, Oxford: a polite exile	113
Recruiting and proselytising	116
Repatriation	123
Conclusions	129
4 The surveillance of exile: the Vichy consulates	141
The diplomatic community in London: adieu	143
Agents consulaires or agents provocateurs?	152
La conduite consulaire : conduct unbecoming	160
Endgame	168
Conclusions	176
5 The tradition of exile: la colonie Française	185
The pre-war French community: a statistical overview	187
The colonist response to defeat: organising, rallying and integrating	194
The British government and the colons : internment and restrictions	225
Conclusions	237
6 Conclusion	250
Appendices	261
Bibliography	273
Index	292